

Dramatists Will Present Three Plays This Week

Three one-act plays will be produced next Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Chapel-auditorium, according to Drama Director John Gill.

The first play, "The Sandbox" by Edward Albee, famous contemporary author, is a strange satirical fantasy involving life and death.

Cast for the one-act production includes Bonnie Loufek, sophomore, as Mommy; Don Ehlers, senior, as Daddy; Jim Gronewold, freshman, as the musician; Nancy Baker, freshman, as Grandma; and Duane Huth, sophomore, as the young man.

The other two plays, winners of the Wartburg-sponsored Iowa Collegiate Playwriting Contest, were written by students from the State University of Iowa, Iowa City.

Both students, James L. Shields and Edward M. Burce, will come to Wartburg to witness the first production of their plays.

First-place winner, "I Am With You" by Shields, is a study of a girl's mind and how her fiancé's death affects her. The climax and falling action of the play reveals whether or not she will be able to reject his lifelike memory.

Four students are included in the cast of "I Am With You." Kay Knopf, junior, will take the part of Claire. David will be played by Ken Weiss, freshman; Richard by Jim Steinhrecher, sophomore; and Connie by Lou Ann Pleggenkuhle, junior.

Second-place winner, "The Telephone" by Burce, is cast by senior Kathryn Kooh as Emma and freshman Don Hughes as Charles.

The play is a character study in a Southern setting involving a woman and a man, and it shows her blind faith that he will return.

Assistant directors for the three one-act plays are Don Ehlers for "I Am With You," sophomore Ed Timm for "The Sandbox" and junior Judy Seffer for "The Telephone."

Gill added that a special dinner will be given for casts, crews, playwrights and judges on Saturday, the day of the final performance.

Students will be admitted to the productions by their activity tickets.

Fun, Recreation Slated By Class

A recreation weekend filled with activities will be held next weekend sponsored by the community recreation class.

Activities will begin on Friday evening when students may join a hike beginning at 6:30 from the Union. At a designated site the hikers are to eat a picnic lunch. A campfire program, singing and dancing will follow.

Students desiring to attend the picnic are asked to sign the posters in the Union before Wednesday noon, and the cost will be 35 cents.

Coed softball will be the main attraction on Saturday. Teams will consist of students from one women's floor and one men's floor. Two leagues of four teams each will be formed and the winner in each league will compete for the championship.

The recreation weekend will close its activities with a movie on Saturday evening.

AS WEEKS DRAW closer to graduation, seniors gather strands of impressions and lasting memories of Wartburg.

New Senate Takes Over

The newly elected Senate had its first regular meeting last Monday night and was installed at the recent student body meeting.

Prior to the meeting of the new Senate, both the old and new Senate met together with this year's president, Al Snook, presiding.

JIM WARD, Intramurals Committee chairman, presented a recommendation from his committee for a raise in activity fees to 75 cents from 25 cents per semester.

This recommendation was unanimously passed by the Senate prior to its presentation at the student body meeting. Ward pointed out that this would not go into effect until the school year 1963-64 because it must appear in the catalogue for one full year.

This recommendation was also unanimously passed at the student body meeting.

MAJOR BUSINESS covered by the new Senate was a discussion of the Fall Pops Concert. Chairman or co-chairmen for the Concert will be selected during the coming week, and any volunteers are asked to contact new student body president Dick Buchsteiner.

A hallot will be presented to the student body in convocation, and they will be given the opportunity to vote on next year's concert plans. There is a possibility of having two types of concerts next year, one vocal and one instrumental or orchestral concert.

Three new instructors have been hired for next year, and one departmental change is announced by Dean of Faculty J. O. Chellevoid.

Miss Gloria B. Alcock will join the faculty as assistant professor of business administration and economics. Her prime responsibility will be in the area of business education.

HAVING RECEIVED her B.A. from the State College of Iowa and her M.A. from the State University of Iowa, she has taught in the Corwith Community School system, Tama High School and presently is at Washington High School in Cedar Rapids.

In Cedar Rapids she is chairman of the Department of Business Education. Miss Alcock is the northeast executive board member of the Iowa Business Education Association.

An article written by her, called "Shorthand Homework from Teacher-Made Tapes," appeared in the May issue of the Journal of Business Education.

Miss Alcock is replacing Carl Muench who will retire in September as assistant professor emeritus of business administration and economics.

CHANGES WILL be taking place in the Business Administration and Economics Department beginning next year, according to Chellevoid. Beginning typing will be offered but not for credit. Previously, this course was offered for three credits.

Both intermediate typing and advanced typing will be offered for two credit hours instead of the three that were previously given.

"The reduction in the amount of credit for skilled typing on non-academic work is based on the assumption that high school experience in this area should prepare students for intermediate typing," said Dean Chellevoid.

David C. Hampton will come next year as assistant professor of chemistry. He received his B.A. from St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minn., and his M.S. from the University of North Dakota, Grand Forks.

AFTER STUDYING at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind., during the summer, Hampton plans to receive his Ph.D. He has been a teacher assistant and studied under a research fellowship at the University of North Dakota and Purdue University.

Hampton is currently a chemistry instructor at Luther College, Decorah. He is married and has one child.

He is replacing Richard Shellman, who is considering employment outside the teaching field.

John M. Solensten will be coming next year as an instructor in English. He comes from Hopkins Senior High School, Hopkins, Minn. He has taught in high schools in Highmore, S. D., and Wells, Minn.

HE RECEIVED his B.A. degree from Gustavus Adolphus, St. Peter, Minn., and his M.S. from Mankato State College, Mankato, Minn. Solensten is married.

Solensten replaces Richard Davis, who is planning to return to graduate school next year.

Jan Wegenast Crowned Miss Waverly

By Luci Zenker

"When it first started, I had trouble smiling, but by the time it was over my smile was pretty permanent."

This was junior Jan Wegenast's personal comment on winning in the third annual Miss Waverly Pageant which was held Sunday.

Queen Jan was not only crowned Miss Waverly of 1962 by the 1961 winner, sophomore Judy Nimtz, but she was also awarded the Miss Talent and Miss Congeniality titles.

Weeks of interviewing, photographing, practicing, rehearsing and dining were climaxed when the judges decided upon the recipients of the titles.

Four judges arrived at their decision from a group of 10 contestants competing in evening gown, talent and swim suit divisions.

Miss Wegenast won the Miss Talent title with a humorous pantomime of Yogi Bоргesson's "The Object of My Affection."

The title of Miss Congeniality was decided by a vote among the contestants themselves. They chose the one who had the best personality, was the most cooperative in working with the other girls and contributed the most towards the contest.

As a result of receiving the title of Miss Waverly, Queen

JAN WEGENAST PRESENTS a pretty picture amid trophies she was awarded for Miss Waverly, Miss Talent and Miss Congeniality.

Jan will receive an expense paid trip for herself and a chaperone to Clear Lake for the Miss Iowa Pageant.

She also received a white swim suit, a white evening gown, a scholarship, a giant trophy (plus two other trophies for the other titles), a dozen roses and many congratulatory comments.

The pageant at Clear Lake, to be held the last week in July, will be based on the same three areas of competion—evening gown, talent and swim suit.

Miss Wegenast, an elementary education major and a physical education minor from Fargo, N. D., is very active in extracurricular activities at college.

She is a varsity cheerleader, president of Physical Education Club and vice president of Women's Athletic Association.

Student Education Association, Intramural Board, the student congregation's Worship Committee, the Elections Committee and Castle Singers all claim her as a member.

In addition, she taught Saturday School at St. Paul's Lutheran Church this year, and she goes to classes "in her spare time."

Freshman Betty Kalkwarf, sophomore Jan Walendy and Miss Wegenast from the college and Claudia Lampe from the high school were the four finalists. Sophomore Donna Ostendorf and freshman Ellen Reuss were the other two contestants from Wartburg.

Miss Wegenast said, "I was overwhelmed upon being crowned Miss Waverly. It was all like a dream. Now I am thrilled and definitely honored. But I think Jan Walendy deserves some recognition, for we were so closely tied in the competition."

Plan Proposed

As an experiment at Wartburg next year, about one-hundred-and-forty women will be living in a student-supervised dormitory.

Vollmer Hall will not have a housemother but will be supervised by student representatives, who will report directly to Dean of Women Florence Hertlein. Women housed in this wing will be from the junior and senior classes.

Whether this plan will be workable is dependent upon the women themselves. One question which comes to mind is whether that many women can be trusted. However, Mrs. Hertlein points out that college is the place to develop responsibility.

It has always been the complaint that students are given a "spoon-fed" education, and not enough emphasis is placed in such areas as character development, individuality and responsibility. This plan would definitely be a step in responsibility development.

This experiment is part of a long-range plan in which the college would hire a trained personnel worker in the future to work with students in administering the dorms.

Housing units without adult supervision are quite common throughout the United States. On our campus this is done on a smaller scale. Men's living in off-campus houses is conducted on a student-supervised basis. For the last two years Gamma House has housed about twelve women with no housemother.

In these units there have been relatively few problems. Mrs. Hertlein feels that the women are more cooperative and considerate of each other when they know they are managing their own affairs.

"I can see that a plan such as this would widen a student's educational background. There would be a definite learning experience in making and regulating the rules under which to live. It is also an important step in maturity or adulthood," said Mrs. Hertlein.

The plan for next year calls for one floor representative or president who will be a direct contact to Mrs. Hertlein's office. Each floor will then set up a floor organization, perhaps consisting of a sort of council. On this council would be three students, one selected by Mrs. Hertlein, and two from the floor.

Each floor could organize its own method of operation to designate such things as a housekeeping department and people to see that women were in at closing time.

Senior women would probably be the main floor representatives, though there are to be no hard and fast qualifications for them. Mrs. Hertlein said, "Representatives will be chosen on the basis of individual personality. They will probably be senior girls because they are older and more mature and will tend to have developed leadership qualities."

One room on each floor will be available free of charge for purposes of leadership. This will be remuneration for the responsibility placed on the representatives.

Many problems are yet to be ironed out. Things such as locking up at closing time, turning out the lights, issuing of lates and out-of-towns and keeping a record of lates will all have to be worked out. There will also be a problem of the underclassmen in the other wings trying to come in Vollmer's entrance after their hours and thus evading the students' eyes.

Several problems could exist with this plan, but most of them should be able to be worked out with cooperation and mature conduct.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Students Present Model U.N. Project

To the Editor:

To give Wartburg students an opportunity to become involved in international affairs, World Affairs Forum is planning to hold a model United Nations meeting here.

So what does this mean to you? It means that if anything like this is to succeed, each of you must participate.

Although most of the plans are still in the formative stage, World Affairs Forum has definitely decided to hold such a meeting April 4-6, 1963. Most of the faculty and some of the administration have agreed to back such an undertaking.

More committee members will be selected in the near future as well as part of the delegations. Some of the committees have already been selected and are at work.

Other students will have a chance to show their interest and pick a country to represent in one of next week's convos.

Basically, the plan is to have a keynote speaker Thursday night, delegation meetings to adopt national resolutions and positions on Friday and a general assembly Friday night carried over until Saturday.

Issues such as the admission of Red China to the U.N., disarmament and any recent disturbance would be among the things debated.

Delegations of Wartburg students (and possibly students from other colleges later) would represent various countries, and would take that country's stand on any issue discussed. All or part of the nations in the U.N. would be represented.

The local delegation might possibly be bolstered by advisers from some of the U.N. delegations themselves, U.N. agencies, embassies or consulates. Or foreign students in Iowa might help give Wartburg students background on their country.

What are the qualifications of a delegate? Only interest and a little knowledge of international affairs that can be picked up in the papers daily.

These are just ideas that are beginning to take definite form. How far they go will depend on the support you give them.

Wartburg needs something like this as part of an expanding educational program, and World Affairs Forum is offering a model U.N. as a source of learning outside the classroom.

Sin, Taxes, Term Papers Spotlighted By Humorist

By Mike Sherer

There are three things that last forever — sin, taxes and term paper assignments. The greatest of these? It all depends upon whose shoes you're wearing — the crepe soles of the revenue officer, the asbestos-lined loafers of a Lucifer or the bare feet of a college student (who is STILL trying to pay his second semester fees to the treasurer.)

Sherer

Nevertheless, there are a number of things that can be said for term papers (unfortunately, most of them have already been said). The lucky student who's required to pound out an even half-dozen of them in five short months may console himself with the fact that term papers come in all sizes and varieties.

Some papers, for instance, rather than lots of references, require only "evidence of research from one outside source" (but, ONE footnote? From Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary?)

These are not to be confused, however, with "well-documented" treatises (a typical evaluation: "Your 113 footnotes give adequate credit to the sources consulted in your nine-page report on the age of Ulysses Grant's horse . . ." — here the instructor's comments become illegible).

The benefits of term paper assignments are many. They keep idle students active (and subsidize General Electric and the No-Doz people as well), and they promote scholarly research (and make Clinton Hall sound very like the editorial offices of the New York Times).

But no doubt most important, they encourage big wealthy typewriter companies to give generous grants to colleges with "term paper pros" (And why not? Else the same funds would end up with the tax collector — or maybe even with the warm-hearted gentleman in the asbestos-lined loafers!)

Knights On Top Of Conference Again

Scores High In Softball

Page 3
The Wartburg Trumpet
Saturday, May 12, 1962

By Paul Mardorf

The Knights are back in the driver's seat of the Iowa Conference after a short stay in the number two position.

By sweeping a doubleheader from Dubuque a week ago and with the help of a Buena Vista loss, the Knights climbed back into the top position.

HOWEVER, this afternoon the Knights face a tough test with the Redmen of Simpson in a doubleheader. Simpson, at present, is in second position in the conference race followed by Buena Vista, only percentage points behind.

A double win by the Knights will literally push Simpson out of title contention and will leave only the Beavers of Buena Vista here next Wednesday.

SENIOR shortstop Dar Oehlerich powered the Oppiemens to a 9-2 win over Dubuque in the opener last Saturday.

With a pair of home runs, one

in the fourth and one in the sixth inning, and a single, Oehlerich drove six runs across the plate. Sophomore Eldon Ott had a triple for the only other extra-base hit for the Knights.

Sophomore lefty Dave Langrock went the distance for the Knights to compile his fourth consecutive win of the season without a loss.

WITH AN infield hit by sophomore Ray Bye in the bottom half of the seventh inning, the Knights squeezed by the Spartans, 6-5, in the nightcap.

Leading 5-1 going into the seventh inning, the Knight pitchers and errors allowed four Spartans to cross the plate, tying the score. Sophomore right-hander Leon Carley, the third Knight pitcher of the inning, finally put out the fire.

BYE HAD three hits in four attempts in the second game and was five for seven for the afternoon. Jim Borcharding connected twice in three attempts, one being a double.

Carley was the game's winning pitcher with DeFranco taking the loss for Dubuque.

The Knights are now 8-3 for the season while Dubuque is 0-4 overall.

Netmen 4-2 After Split

Tennis squad extended its record to 4-2 with a win over Central and a loss to Luther last week.

Last Saturday the Knights won all but one singles match and were rained out in doubles to beat Central, 5-1. Number one man Larry Mugridge was the lone Knight loser.

But at Luther on Tuesday the tables were turned. Only Don Dietzler was able to salvage a victory as the Norskies won five singles and three doubles matches. Luther won, 8-1.

Coach Fred Jaspers takes his team into the last week of the season with three meets on deck. This afternoon the racketeers are meeting Loras at Dubuque. Tuesday they will attempt to knock off State College of Iowa for a second time in one year.

On Friday Wartburg will compete in the conference meet at Dubuque. Last year the Knights finished sixth.

Jaspers said the same six who played at Central and Luther will play in today's meet. They are Mugridge, Jerome Shinkay, Glen Kjornes, Dietzler, Dave Shalkhauser and Doug Langholz.

Tracksters Invade Norseland Today

Wartburg takes on the perennially tough Luther Norsemen in a dual track meet at Decorah today.

"We're looking past this one to Buena Vista," was about the only comment Track Coach Dave Olson had to make in regard to the Luther dual. The Knights travel to Storm Lake Wednesday to meet BV in the last dual meet of the year.

FOLLOWING THE BV meet, the track squad will travel to Dubuque for the final action of the season next Saturday in the conference meet. In the last track action Wartburg lost to Simpson, 74-57.

Luther is a strong favorite in today's meet. The Norskies won the Viking Olympics recently at Rock Island, Ill., while the Knights finished fourth.

In another comparison Luther rolled over Upper Iowa, 125½-5½, and the Knights beat the Peacocks 97½-33½.

LUTHER HOLDS 11 of the meet records, and Wartburg has only four of the marks.

Dixon Zander is a threat to break his own pole vault record of 13', John Niemeyer has a chance to beat the high hurdle mark of :15.5 set by former Knights Nelson Bose in 1956, and any of three Knights could snap the high jump record of 6'2" set by Carl Anderson in 1957.

Four Simpson Redmen won two events each last Tuesday to lead Simpson over Wartburg. As Coach Olson said, the Knights didn't have quite enough quality to take first places but had enough to take seconds and thirds.

IN SEVEN events Simpson placed first, and Wartburg took both second and third. In three other events the Knights could salvage only a third place.

Wartburg winners were Zander, as usual, in the pole vault with 12'; Kurt Thorson in the javelin with a 170'7½" heave; Jerry Schara in the high jump with 5'9¼" on a sloppy runway; and the mile relay quartet in 3:35.5.

BOB KALDENBERG won the 880 and mile runs, Jon Wentzel swept the dashes, Odeh Ali won the 440 and the two-mile run and Charles Fillman took the hurdles events to lead the Redmen.

Niemeyer ran his best collegiate high hurdles race with a 15.6 time but finished second. He also ran second in the lows. Lothar Columbus also took two seconds in the mile and two-mile runs.

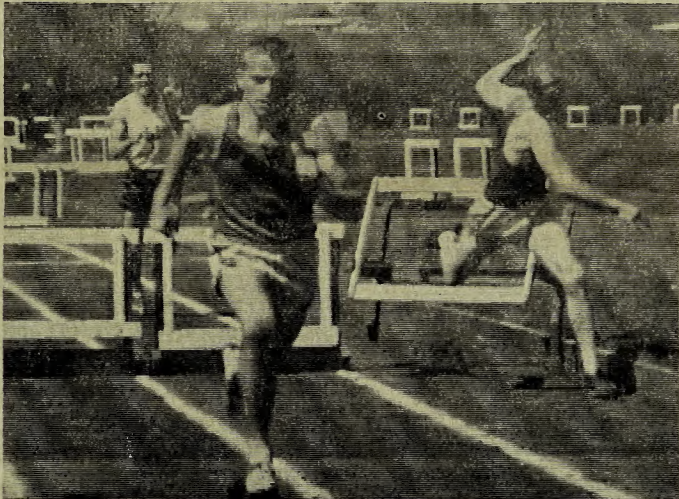

Harold Shudlick finished second in the 440, which was won in 51.7, but he ran a 51.2 quarter as a part of the mile relay unit to hold off a Simpson comeback.

Cheerleaders Chosen At Convo Tues.

Six coeds were elected cheerleaders for the '62-63 sports season at the student body meeting last Tuesday.

Freshmen Barbara Bischoff, Janice Howard and Cheryl Sorensen, sophomore Shirley Gratias and juniors Joan Kreiter and Janice Wegenast will lead the student body in supporting the Knights.

Freshmen Barbara Matthias and Karen Rinkus are first and second alternates.

WHEN HE CAN'T get over the hurdles, Norm Mielke, at right, runs through them. Senior John Niemeyer is leading the low hurdlers down the stretch against Upper Iowa last week.

Golfers Thumped By Loras Team

Wartburg's golf squad suffered a trouncing at the hands of Loras last Saturday, 14-1.

Only one Knight, Bruce Hein with a 78, was able to break 80 as Loras' entire team broke that score.

Coach Norm Johansen's squad moves into a busy week, which will climax with the conference meet at Dubuque next Friday and Saturday. Their first meet in the rough week is at Luther today. Wednesday the linksters will entertain Buena Vista.

Other Wartburg scores against Loras included Jerry Potter, 82; Harry Jebson, 83; Jack Abrams, 84; and Terry Witwer, 93.

Russian To Be Resumed

Russian will be offered again next fall, according to instructor Mrs. A. E. Haefner. She asks all students who plan to take the course to see her on Tuesday afternoon between 2 and 5 in Room 200 Old Main unless they have previously contacted her.

Russian was introduced here in 1959, when few colleges in Iowa were offering courses in the language.

TODAY CORNELL offers an undergraduate major in Russian; the University of Iowa offers four years of instruction; Iowa State University, Morningside and State College of Iowa offer three years; and Simpson, Drake, Coe and Iowa Wesleyan offer two years of study.

Many high schools in the state are also introducing courses in Russian. West High School in Waterloo has 50 students signed up for courses next fall. Thomas Jefferson High School in Council Bluffs has taught Russian for two years. Lincoln High School in Des Moines also offers two years.

PATRICIA WATERS, a Wartburg graduate of 1960, has been asked to introduce Russian next fall at Humboldt High School. She has been continuing her work in Russian at the University of Wisconsin, where Robert Mayer, 1960 graduate, is now working on his Ph.D. in Russian on a National Defense Foreign Language Fellowship.

Robert Johannsen, senior, has signed a contract to teach Russian and English at Crystal Lake High School in Illinois next fall. He has been tutoring in third-year and has been accepted by the Slavic Department at Northwestern University to continue his studies at the Summer Institute for Secondary School Teachers.

Schmidt To Present Organ Recital Wed.

Dr. Warren Schmidt, Music Department, will present an organ recital this Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the Fine Arts Center.

The program will consist of the works of J. S. Bach and include "Prelude and Fugue in B Minor," "Trio Sonata No. 4, in E Minor," "Adagio" and "Vivace Andante."

"Unpoco Allegro," "Prelude and Fugue in D Major," "Fugue in G Minor" and a Chorale Partita "Be Thou Welcome, Gentle Jesus," a chorale with eleven variations, will complete the program

May Breakfast Set Tomorrow

Hans Sachs, German organization, will hold its annual May breakfast tomorrow. It is open to all students.

Students will leave Old Main at 6 a.m. to hike out to a clearing along the Cedar River for an early morning breakfast followed by a church service.

Dr. Walter Tillmanns, head of the Modern Languages Department, will preach the service in German.

The service will be followed by recreation such as softball, volleyball or hiking, according to Larry Minard, president of Hans Sachs.

Grad Gowns Here

Senior caps and gowns have arrived, according to seniors Jan Arndt and Al Putz, co-chairmen of that committee.

Seniors are asked to pick them up downstairs in Wartburg Hall near the Health Center on Tuesday from 8-5 p.m. A charge of 20 cents will be collected at this time to cover postage and handling charges.

Seniors should try their caps and gowns on now so that changes can be made if necessary, according to Miss Arndt.

Larson To Give Recital

Robert Larson, Music Department, will present a vocal recital tomorrow at 4 p.m. in the Chapel-auditorium.

The first group of songs by English and American composers will be devoted to works by Henry Purcell.

REALIZATIONS OF THE first three songs are by a contemporary English composer, Benjamin Britten, and are taken from Purcell's "Orpheus Britannicus." The last three songs are realizations by John Edmunds.

The second group will consist of two canticles by Britten. The setting for one of these canticles is the story of Abraham's offering of Isaac. The second canticle has as its setting the sufferings and death of Christ.

THE LAST group on the program will be by the American composer Samuel Barger. It is a setting of A. E. Housman's "With Rue My Heart is Laden," "Sure on this Spring Night," "Rain has Fallen," "Sleep Now" and "I Hear an Army."

Oriental Block Concludes

The final two convocations of the Oriental Culture block will be held next Tuesday and Thursday.

Tuesday's convo will feature Dr. Percy Buchanan, the director of the Institute of Asian Affairs, the University of Oklahoma.

Dr. Buchanan, a Presbyterian pastor, was born in Japan while his father was a missionary there. He received his Ph.D. in Oriental languages from Princeton University.

Buchanan, himself a missionary in Japan for several years, is at the present time writing a book entitled "History of Japan."

"Behind the Bamboo Curtain," the title of his lecture, will explain Communist life in Japan today and the effects of Confucian history on Japan.

Mrs. Philip Hyland, whose husband is Dean of the Bible School in Shizuoka City, Japan, will speak at Thursday's convo. "Japan — Land of Religions But No God" is the title of her lecture.

Mrs. Hyland and her husband are living in Minneapolis while on furlough. They will return to Japan in August.

Council Retreat Planned For Sat.

Church council and committee members will journey to Heery's Woods next Saturday for a retreat.

Pastor Robert Gronlund of the Stewardship Department of the American Lutheran Church will be the morning speaker. His topic will be, "The Role of the Organized Congregation in the Life of a Student."

Fifteen faculty members will meet with these students in informal discussion groups to talk about faculty-student relations.

Later the new committees will try to plan their program for the next year in light of the ideas and insights gained at the retreat.

Math Grads Earn University Grants

Four seniors in the Mathematics Department have received graduate assistantships at leading universities, according to John O. Chellevold, Dean of Faculty.

Charles Jepsen of Dumont and president of Alpha Chi will attend Indiana University, Bloomington. Carol Jensen of Mound, Minn., will do graduate study at the University of Nebraska, Lincoln.

Larry Mugridge of Waupun, Wis., received his assistantship for Lehigh University at Bethlehem, Pa. Richard Kruger of Waverly will attend Iowa State University at Ames.

Chellevold commented that all four students who were recommended for assistantships received them.
